

Art Gallery Marine Life

von Ute Niemann

Very close and intense - Marine animals

Underwater photography from a different perspective - close and intense - sea animals as an art object. These calendar photos were taken during dives in the tropical seas and show marine life in their natural habitat. The fascination of the coral reefs - for me it is always an experience to dive into this colorful, hidden world. Come with me and accompany the underwater photographer Ute Niemann.

